Amendment 221
Sylvie Goulard

1976 Electoral Act
Article 1 a (new)

1976 Electoral Act

Article 1a

1. For the purpose of allocating seats among Member States in accordance with the principle of degressive proportionality pursuant to Article 14 of the Treaty on European Union, the ratio between the population of each Member State and the number of seats allocated to it, before rounding to whole numbers, shall vary in relation to the respective populations of the Member States in such a way that each Member of the European Parliament from a more populous Member State represents more citizens than each Member from a less populous Member State and, conversely, that the larger the population of a Member State, the greater its entitlement to a large number of seats.

2. Where a State accedes to the Union during a parliamentary term, it shall be allocated seats which will be added to the number of seats provided for in Article 14 of the Treaty on European Union on a transitional basis for the remainder of that parliamentary term.

Article 2

1976 Electoral Act

In accordance with its specific national situation, each Member State may establish constituencies for elections to the European Parliament or subdivide its electoral area in a different manner, without generally affecting the proportional nature of the voting system.

Amendment

1. In accordance with its specific national situation, each Member State may establish constituencies for elections to the European Parliament or subdivide its electoral area in a different manner, without generally affecting the proportional nature of the voting system.

2. Constituencies shall not comprise fewer than 10% of the total number of seats allocated to the Member State in which they are situated.

3. For constituencies in which the list system is used and which comprise fewer than 26 seats, a mechanism for the adjustment of seats shall be put in place at national level, to be governed in each Member State concerned by its national provisions.

Amendment 224

Josep-Maria Terricabras, Ernest Maragall

1976 Electoral Act

Article 2 a (new)

1976 Electoral Act

Article 2a

1. There shall be one additional constituency formed of the entire territory of the Union. This constituency shall be represented by 25 Members of the European Parliament.

2. The European Parliament and the Council, acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure, shall establish a European electoral authority to conduct and verify the electoral process of the European Union constituency referred to in paragraph 1.

3. Transnational lists of candidates for election in the European Union constituency shall be registered with the European electoral authority at least 12 weeks before the start of the elections to the European Parliament.

4. Without prejudice to Article 3a, the lists shall be admissible only if:
   – the candidates whose names appear on the lists in question are, in the aggregate, resident in at least one third of the Member States,
   – no more than 25% of those candidates are resident in the same Member State,
   – each group of five candidates is composed of nationals of five different Member States.

5. Each elector shall have two votes, one of which may be cast for the election of Members in his or her Member State and the other of which, being a supplementary vote, may be cast for the European Union-wide list. Seats shall be allocated from the European lists in accordance with the Sainte-Laguë method.

Amendment 225
Sylvie Goulard

1976 Electoral Act
Article 2a (new)

1. Pursuant to Article 14 of the Treaty on European Union, there shall be one additional constituency formed of the entire territory of the Union from which 25 Members shall be elected.

2. The European Parliament and the Council, acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure, shall establish an electoral authority to conduct and verify the electoral process of the European Union constituency referred to in paragraph 1.

3. Transnational lists of candidates for election in the European Union constituency shall be submitted by the European political parties and shall be admissible only:

(a) if the candidates whose names appear on the lists in question are, in the aggregate, resident in at least one third of the Member States, and

(b) if the lists in question are balanced in terms of gender.

4. Each elector shall have one supplementary vote that may be cast for the European Union-wide list.

5. Detailed arrangements for elections in the European Union constituency shall be laid down in implementing measures to be adopted in accordance with Article 14.

Amendment

Article 3a

Each Member State shall set a deadline for the establishment of electoral lists of at least 12 weeks before the start of the elections to the European Parliament in that Member State.

Justification

In the original version of the draft proposal the amendments reads "Each Member State shall set a deadline for the establishment of electoral lists at national level (...)”. This would possibly exclude regional lists or lists on constituency level from the scope of the provision. The amendment seeks to clarify that all electoral lists for the elections to the European Parliament are meant.

1976 Electoral Act Amendment

1. Members of the European Parliament shall vote on an individual and personal basis. They shall not be bound by any instructions and shall not receive a binding mandate. They shall represent all the citizens of the Union.
2. From the European Parliament elections in 2004, the office of member of the European Parliament shall be incompatible with that of member of a national parliament.

By way of derogation from that rule and without prejudice to paragraph 3:

– members of the Irish National Parliament who are elected to the European Parliament at a subsequent poll may have a dual mandate until the next election to the Irish National Parliament, at which juncture the first subparagraph of this paragraph shall apply;

– members of the United Kingdom Parliament who are also members of the European Parliament during the five-year term preceding election to the European Parliament in 2004 may have a dual mandate until the 2009 European Parliament elections, when the first subparagraph of this paragraph shall apply.

Amendment

Article 9a

In order to avoid fraud, double voting or inability to vote due to inefficiency in the exchange of information between Member States, the deadline for the establishment and finalisation of the electoral roll is set at eight weeks before election day.

Or. en

Justification

In the original version of the draft proposal the amendments reads "Each Member State shall set a deadline for the establishment of electoral lists at national level (...)". This would possibly exclude regional lists or lists on constituency level from the scope of the provision. The amendment seeks to clarify that all electoral lists for the elections to the European Parliament are meant.

Amendment 257
Mercedes Bresso

1976 Electoral Act
Article 9 b (new)
Article 9b

In each Member State, a single contact authority shall be responsible for exchanging data on voters with its counterparts in the other Member States. That authority shall transmit to those counterparts, at the latest six weeks before election day and via uniform and secure electronic means of communication, data concerning Union citizens who are nationals of more than one Member States and Union citizens who are not nationals of the Member State in which they are residing.

The information transmitted shall include at least the surname and forename, age, city of residence, and date of arrival in the Member State concerned, of the citizen in question.

Justification

Since the Commission and many Member States have pointed out the difficulties and problems encountered by them ahead of European elections in exchanging information concerning Union citizens living in another Member State, it is necessary to improve the system for exchanging information by appointing a single authority in each Member State to be responsible for gathering the information and transmitting it to its counterparts in other Member States, and for receiving such information from those counterparts and passing it to the authorities responsible for the voting operations. The deadline for transmitting the information should be six weeks before the election, thus giving enough time for the information to be processed in the Member States (and, in particular, for translation and transliteration in the case of alphabetic differences, and for the resolution of problems and issues arising from homonyms, etc.).
